

TAPPI was founded in 1915 as the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry. It is a registered not-for-profit, international Non-Governmental Organization of about 14,000 member engineers, scientists, managers, academics and others involved in the areas of pulp, and paper, and some allied areas of packaging (such as corrugated fiberboard, flexible packaging, lamination, adhesives, coatings and extrusion).

Eleven divisions representing the various markets it serves.

TAPPI's International Nanotechnology Division was launched in 2011 as a new division within TAPPI after several years as a large committee.

TAPPI's NanoDivision is a forum for scientists, technical professionals, students and other stakeholders interested in advancing the responsible and sustainable production and use of renewable nanomaterials.

11th Year of the Conference

NEW FOR 2006!—THE FIRST CONFERENCE OF ITS KIND FOR THE FOREST PRODUCTS INDUSTRY!

APRIL 26-28, 2006 | ATLANTA MARRIOTT MARQUIS | ATLANTA, GEORGIA

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON NANOTECHNOLOGY FOR THE FOREST PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

Small-Particle Science...A Catalyst for Transformation

Discover the latest nanotechnology and nanotechnology-enabled products for the forest products industry.

Learn about the latest scientific breakthroughs. Meet and hear your competitors at the leading edge of nanotechnology.

Discover science of nanotechnology for research and development.

Discuss environmental, health, and safety issues and solutions.

Join a Prestigious Group of Organizations at This Event

Sponsors: UAS, Verso, Georgia Tech, IUFRO, etc.

April 26-28, 2006, Atlanta, GA, USA

2007 International Conference on Nanotechnology for the Forest Products Industry

13-15 June 2007 | KNOXVILLE CONVENTION CENTER | KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE, USA

Conference Invitation

The 2007 International Conference on Nanotechnology for the Forest Products Industry will provide a professional opportunity for participation and networking.

The best applications in nanotechnology-enabled products and materials.

Focus in forest products nanotechnology science and engineering.

Advancements in nanotechnology from around the world.

Emerging ideas and opportunities for nanotechnology-enabled materials and products.

The impact of health and safety issues on the development of nanotechnology products.

Identify and develop successful collaborative partnerships.

SPECIAL INVITATION: Tour the Center for Nanoscale Materials Science at Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Thursday, June 14, 2007. Applications for security clearance are due by April 13, 2007. See details inside.

Sponsors: UAS, Verso, etc.

June 13-15, 2007, Knoxville, TN, USA

International Conference on Nanotechnology for the Forest Products Industry

Nanotechnology from Research to Applications

Exploring cutting edge research, development and deployment of nanotechnology science and technology for the global forest products community.

Hyatt Regency St. Louis
June 25 - 27, 2008
St. Louis, MO USA

Designed to meet the needs of:

- Professionals in product development, sales, and marketing
- Forest product industry, university, and government researchers
- Nanotechnology researchers

Key Topics:

- Nanotechnology applications in papermaking
- Environmental Health and Safety discussions
- Future directions including industry priorities
- Forest materials based nano-manufacturing
- Grant programs for nanotechnology R&D
- Nanotechnology industry perspectives

23-26 JUNE 2014 • FAIRMONT HOTEL VANCOUVER
VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA

Unlock the Potential of Nature's Building Blocks

- Renewable
- Sustainable
- Versatile

At the 2014 Conference:

- Learn about the latest technical advances and applications
- Meet technical experts and business leaders from around the globe
- Join the conversation

A Unique Opportunity:

- 85 presentations, 50 posters
- Over 200 delegates from around the world
- Facility tours
- Two workshops

Sponsors: International Paper, etc.

Media Partners: TAPPI JOURNAL, Paper 20, Nanotechnology Now

June 23-26, 2014, Vancouver, BC, Canada

2015 TAPPI International Conference on Nanotechnology for Renewable Materials

22-25 June 2015 | Hyatt Regency | Atlanta, GA
